FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MAY OPENING OF CHICS N WINGS UPSCALE SPORTS BAR TO OPEN IN TYSONS

Washington, DC, February 16, 2007 – An anticipated May opening for Chics n Wings will bring Tysons Corner, VA its only upscale sports bar. With a capacity for 150 this unique restaurant and bar will boast an interior of mahogany wood walls, comfortable roomy seating, wall-to-wall hard wood floors and 40 plasma screen televisions that will feature satellite Direct TV, thereby allowing clients to watch virtually any sport televised. For warmer months, Chics N Wings will extend their seating to an outdoor patio, which will have access to an open order bar, for faster service.

John Tsiaoushis, former owner of the regionally popular Shark Club, and Vijay Malladi team up in this endeavor. Malladi also is a founder of locally based Minerva Indian Cuisine as well as an owner in the Dunkin Donuts and Baskin Robbins franchises. Tsiaoushis says, “We are excited to be back in this Northern Virginia market together. Tysons Corner has been in need of something fun and sports focused, yet upscale like Chics N Wings. We plan cater to the interests of our patrons whether NFL, NBA, college, soccer, cricket, or rugby.” The restaurant bar also plans to do special events in the future with local athletes, interested non-profits, and will broadcast radio shows from the venue.

In addition to the sports bar menu featuring everything from burgers and sandwiches to a variety of entrée salads, to jumbo lump crab cakes to a Rutherford rib eye, Chics n Wings will offer a raw bar. The raw bar will be ½ price Monday – Friday from 4pm -7:30pm and ½ price Sunday – Thursday from 10pm – 1am. The bar itself will have a wide variety of domestic and imported beers and wines.

Chics n Wings will be open 7 days a week from 11:00am to 2:00am. Location is 8119 Watson Street, McLean, Virginia 22102 in the heart of Tysons Corner, next to Bed Bath & Beyond on Rt. 7 and behind the Silver Diner, which faces International Drive.
